

There isn't a way to track how many machines are available for use at the school gyms on campus.